February 4: The Shack by Wm. Paul Young

Mackenzie Allen Phillips's daughter has been abducted during a family vacation, and evidence that she may have been brutally murdered is found in an abandoned shack deep in the Oregon wilderness. Four years later, Mack receives a suspicious note, apparently from God, inviting him back to that shack for a weekend. Against his better judgment he arrives at the shack one wintry afternoon. What he finds there will change his life forever.
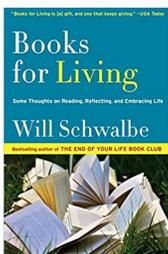

March 4: Little Fires Everywhere by Celeste Ng

In Shaker Heights, a suburb of Cleveland, everything is orderly until Mia Warren arrives with her daughter Pearl and rents a house from Elena Richardson, whose guiding principle is playing by the rules. Mia carries with her a mysterious past and a disregard for the status quo that threatens to upend this carefully ordered community.

April 1: Letters From Eden or The Bluebird Effect by Julie Zickefoose

Julie Zickefoose is a writer, artist and naturalist at home in the Appalachian foothills of Ohio. Every day, she roams her 80 acre wildlife sanctuary, and every day she finds something new. This deep relationship with the land is the wellspring for her writing and art. Don't miss An Evening With Julie Zickefoose at the Coshocton Public Library on April 11th at 6:30 pm. She will present a talk and will have books to sell and sign for you.

May 6: Books for Living by Will Schwalbe

For Will Schwalbe, reading is a way to entertain himself but also to make sense of the world, and to find the answers to life's questions big and small. In each chapter, he discusses a particular book and how it relates to concerns we all share. Throughout, Schwalbe focuses on the way certain books can help us honor those we've loved and lost, and also figure out how to live each day more fully.
